Section A

Answer one question from this section.

1. ‘Historians cannot study fascism without defining it first.’ Commenting on the history of fascism throughout the twentieth century, how far do you agree with this statement?

2. Reflecting on examples from across the twentieth century, how did forms of fascism after 1945 differ from those before 1945?

3. ‘British fascism has failed throughout the twentieth century because fascism is entirely alien to British culture and politics.’ Discuss.

EURO-ELECTION APPEAL

The British National Party is on the verge of a major breakthrough into mainstream politics. Last May, the BNP achieved another good set of local election results and gained representation on the Greater London Assembly. In June 2009, it’s the European Elections and it is vital that we continue to make progress.

But to win against the old gang parties in such a fiercely contested set of elections needs considerable funding and we are appealing for your help as the BNP makes this vital push for power in order to save our country.
